PROFILE

▾ The Faculty of Economics and Business

Faculty of Economics and Business at Universitas Airlangga (FEB UNAIR), founded in 1961, has had qualified experiences and capabilities in the field of education, researches, and social services especially in terms of economics, management, accounting, and Islamic economics. As one of the prominent faculties of economics in Indonesia, FEB UNAIR has been consistently determined to be independent, innovative, excellent, and leading Faculty of Economics and Business both in national and international levels based on religious morality. FEB UNAIR has a vast network of partnerships at national and international level in education, research, and community services.

In total, FEB UNAIR has had more than 26.000 alumni who have successfully become leading individuals, either in governmental sectors or in private organizations. The alumni of FEB UNAIR has been capable of becoming economic activators, strategic decision makers, executives in national and international companies, and motivators of changes. The roles of the alumni, including the roles of the academics, and the students of FEB UNAIR are the concrete personification of Excellence with Morality as in the value of Universitas Airlangga. This concept is embodied in having the manners which are always based on morality, giving the best for the surroundings, possessing strong and rooted academic culture, and being oriented to process and result so that optimum performance is achieved.

PROGRAMME

Preparing future generations to possess global quality

International Undergraduate Programme

Faculty of Economics and Business Universitas Airlangga (FEB UNAIR) offers International Undergraduate Programme (IUP) in accounting, management, and islamic economics. The management programme has four concentrations: marketing, finance, human resource, and operational and supply chain-that students can take in semester 6.

Students in the IUP FEB UNAIR will study in an international environment, internationally standardised facilities, and be taught by lecturers who have intense international experience. The international experience of the lecturers in IUP FEB UNAIR manifest in several ways such as extensive international collaboration, graduated from universities abroad, or having international recognition.

The IUP FEB UNAIR determines to make students in the IUP FEB UNAIR programme to get as much as possible international exposures. Besides the international environment in the programme, students are also required to take at least one of the following international exposures: a one-semester exchange programme, a dual degree programme, or outbound abroad in one of the partner universities.

This year is the second year for the IUP FEB UNAIR to welcome our new students. We have made some developments and adjustments in several aspects such as a new dual-degree agreement for the management subject and the way we manage the internal process to keep up with an even challenging environment. Our mission to prepare our students to possess global quality always comes first and becomes a compass in every direction that we take.
